ACCOUNTANTS FOR ENTREPRENEURS

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Members of WE Charity

Opinion

We have audited the non-consolidated financial statements of WE Charity (the Organization), which comprise the non-consolidated statement of financial position as at August 31, 2019, and the non-consolidated statements of changes in net assets, operations and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the non-consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying non-consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the non-consolidated financial position of the Organization as at August 31, 2019, and the non-consolidated results of its operations and non-consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNPO).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Non-consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the non-consolidated financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Non-consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the non-consolidated financial statements in accordance with ASNPO, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of non-consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the non-consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Non-consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the non-consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these non-consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the non-consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the non-consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the non-consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the non-consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

WE CHARITY

NOTES TO NON-CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUGUST 31, 2019

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

WE Charity (the "organization") is committed to creating a network of children helping children through representation, leadership and action and is dedicated to reducing poverty and exploitation of children around the world.

The organization is incorporated under the provision of Part II of the Canada Corporations Act as a non-profit corporation without share capital. It is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act, and as a result, the organization is exempt from income taxation under Section 149 of the Income Tax Act.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The non-consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNFPO).

Financial instruments

Measurement

The organization initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value and subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost, except for marketable securities that are quoted in an active market, which are measured at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognized in operations.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include cash, contributions receivable and amounts due from related entities.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include bank indebtedness, accounts payable, bank loans and obligations under capital lease.

Impairment

Financial assets measured at cost are tested for impairment when there are indicators of such. The amount of write-down is recognized in operations. A previously recognized impairment loss may be reversed to the extent of a recovery in value, directly or by adjusting the allowance account. The amount of reversal is recognized in operations.

NOTES TO NON-CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUGUST 31, 2019

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Revenue recognition

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for the following sources of revenue:

- a) Donations and sponsorships consist of cash resources received from corporate partners and the general public. Certain sponsorship arrangements with corporate partners provide both parties with non-exclusive, non-transferable, royalty-free license to use, reproduce and exhibit certain trademarks in accordance with the specifications of the arrangements. Due to the difficulty in determining the value of benefits from the use of such trademarks, the organization has not allocated or recognized any of the sponsorship funds as proceeds from licensing.
- b) Contributions in kind include goods and services that are used by the organization in the normal course of operations. Contributed materials and services are expensed when received and contributed assets providing future benefits are capitalized at fair value on the date of contribution.
- c) Grants include funding received from government and other not-for-profit organizations.
- d) Investment and other income.

Restricted contributions for specific programs are deferred when received and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenditures are incurred. Restricted contributions for capital expenditures are deferred when received and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization of the acquired capital asset.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable, if the amount to be received can be reasonably determined and collection is reasonably assured.

Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets. Endowments are subject to externally imposed stipulations that the resources contributed be maintained permanently by the organization. Investment income or losses that are stipulated to be added to the principal amount of endowment are recognized as direct increases to net assets.

Investment and other income that are not otherwise restricted are recognized as revenue when earned.

Contributed assets and services

While the organization also benefits from volunteer services and rent-free use of office space within facilities owned or leased by related entities, due to the difficulty in determining their fair value, the value of such services and arrangements have not been reflected in these non-consolidated financial statements.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Net assets

- a) Net assets invested in capital assets are comprised of the unamortized amount thereof net of liabilities and deferred capital contribution incurred to acquire the capital assets.
- b) Unrestricted net assets are comprised of the excess of revenue over expenditures accumulated by the organization, net of transfers, available for use in general operations.
- c) Endowments represent the amount of contributed resources that the organization is required to maintain permanently by the donor.

Program expenditures

Program expenditures are incurred on international and domestic programs, leadership education and public awareness initiatives. International program expenditures are recognized as expenditures when the funds are disbursed by the organization. All other program expenditures are recognized as expenditures when incurred.

Allocation of expenditures

The organization incurs costs for international and domestic programming and fundraising and administrative activities. The cost of each function includes the cost of personnel and other expenditures directly related to the function. The organization incurs administrative and fundraising costs common to the administration of the organization and its programs. Accordingly, certain payroll and operating costs are allocated to administration, fundraising and program expenditures based on resources dedicated to each function.

Leases

Leases are classified as either capital or operating leases. At the time the organization enters into a capital lease, an asset is recorded along with its related obligation to reflect the acquisition and financing. Rental payments under operating leases are expensed as incurred.

Capital assets

Capital assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and are amortized over their estimated useful lives at the following rates and methods:

Buildings	4%	declining balance method
Computer equipment	2 years	straight-line method
Furniture and fixtures	20%	declining balance method
Vehicles	30%	declining balance method
Leasehold improvements	5 years	straight-line method

Intangible assets

Intangible assets represent the costs of acquiring and customizing computer software. Software are recorded at cost and are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of five years.

NOTES TO NON-CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUGUST 31, 2019

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Properties under renovation

Properties under renovation are stated at cost, which includes the cost of acquisition, renovation and carrying charges during the renovation period.

Controlled entities

The organization does not consolidate controlled not-for-profit entities. Instead, summaries of the entities' financial information are presented in the organization's non-consolidated financial statements.

The organization accounts for its investments in profit-oriented entities using the equity method. Accordingly, the investments are recorded at acquisition cost and are increased for the organization's proportionate share of post-acquisition earnings and decreased by post-acquisition losses and distributions received.

Impairment of long-lived assets

The organization tests for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability is assessed by comparing the carrying amount to the projected future net cash flows the long-lived assets are expected to generate through their direct use and eventual disposition. When a test for impairment indicates that the carrying amount of an asset is not recoverable, an impairment loss is recognized to the extent the carrying value exceeds its fair value.

Foreign currency translation

Monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the rate in effect at the balance sheet date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated using historical rates. Revenue and expenditures are translated at the monthly average rates throughout the year. Translational gains and losses are included in operations for the year in which they occur.

Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenditures during the period. Such estimates include the useful lives of capital and intangible assets, allowance for doubtful accounts, accrued liabilities and allocation of expenditures. Any adjustments necessary are reported in operations in the year in which they become known. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

AUGUST 31, 2019

20. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The organization is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments and has a comprehensive risk management framework to monitor, evaluate and manage these risks. The following analysis provides information about the organization's risk exposure and concentration as of August 31, 2019.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The organization is exposed to credit risk from its cash balances and contributions receivable from donors and amounts due from related entities. In order to reduce its credit risk, the organization recognizes contributions receivable only when there is reasonable expectation of collection and regularly reviews the related entities' credit worthiness. The organization has historically not had any significant issues with collection. An allowance for doubtful accounts is established based upon factors surrounding the credit risk of specific amounts, historical trends and other information. The organization manages its credit risk from cash balances by maintaining its accounts with creditworthy financial institutions.

Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The organization is exposed to currency risk on cash, marketable securities, contributions receivable and accounts payable denominated in foreign currencies as follows:

	2019 $	2018 $
U.S. Dollars (USD):
Cash	412,910	49,398
Marketable securities	645,629	1,229,472
Contributions receivable	-	8,425
Accounts payable	1,005,432	9,212
Pound Sterling (GBP):
Cash	8,408	445,829
Contributions receivable	40,000	-
Accounts payable	80,000	-

The organization does not use derivative instruments to reduce its exposure to currency risk.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. In seeking to minimize the risks from interest rate fluctuations, the organization manages exposure through its normal operating and financing activities. The organization is exposed to interest rate risk primarily through its bank indebtedness, bank loans and obligations under capital lease.

Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk or currency risk), whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual financial instrument or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar financial instruments traded in the market. The organization is exposed to other price risk through its investment in marketable securities.

21. CHANGES IN NON-CASH WORKING CAPITAL

22. CORRESPONDING FIGURES

During the prior year, the organization changed its fiscal year end from December 31 to August 31. Accordingly, corresponding figures represent the organization's operations for the eight month period ended August 31, 2018.

Some of the corresponding figures have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

23. CORRECTION OF ERROR

During the year, it was identified that in-kind services received from Me to We during the 2018 fiscal year to satisfy commitments that would otherwise have required monetary settlement had not been appropriately recognized.

The error has been corrected in the current non-consolidated financial statements resulting in a $912,000 increase in contributions in kind and an increase in payroll for international programming, domestic programming and administration in the amounts of $82,987, $431,156 and $397,857, respectively. The correction and recognition of the in-kind services also resulted in a payable to Me to We in the amount of $118,560 relating to government remittances on the in-kind services received.

All corresponding disclosures have been updated to reflect the correction (Note 15).
